DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Claims

Claims 1-23 are pending.

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 07/26/07 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1624

2. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. Claims 1-23 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Maher et al., EP 0 938 463 for the reasons set forth in the previous office action mailed on 02/22/07 and in view of Maunders et al., (U.S. Patent Number 5,550,309).

Applicant's arguments filed 06/11/07 have been fully considered but they are not deemed persuasive. Applicants argue that the instant process is different from the process of Maher et al., in that Maher et al., does not teach the removal of very fine particles of dehydrogenation catalysts from gas mixture (A) or gas mixture (A') before these gas mixtures enter the zone in which they are partially oxidized and/or ammoxidized. In response, in deed, Maher et al., is silent on the removal of fine particles of catalyst before entering the ammoxidizing zone, however, such a feature is not considered to be a patentable distinction because it is well known in the art that fine particles of catalyst do mix with reactants and final products and thus, the removal of said fine catalyst particles before the ammoxidation zone can be considered as routine manipulation of process step. See In re Aller cited earlier. Again, there is no evidence of record to distinguish the process of Maher from the current process.

Art Unit: 1624

Maher et al., and the current process all use similar starting materials and produces identical products. Applicants may need to provide a side-by-side comparison study to show unexpected results and/or yield or selectivity from the current process. Note Maunders et al., (U.S. Patent Number 5,550,309) which teaches that removal of catalyst particles from process stream is fairly routine.
